

News from Mrs. VanderWall's

3rd Grade

March 16, 2018

Reading: I am impressed with how hard the students are working to learn our Text Dependent Questions! On Monday, we'll wrap it up and begin working on reading informational. We will be developing skills that teach how to Read to Learn.	Writing: The students have been busy writing their On-Demands all week. Since only a few of them are done, we will need to continue next week. Our next unit is Opinion. We will be writing an essay on a public issue. Thank you for helping your child complete the blue paper!
Science: Ms VanSlooten began teaching science! The students are very excited.	Social Studies: We are reading about how the British also came to the United States (although it wasn't the US yet!!). Conflicts will happen between the French and the British. There will be another quiz soon. Information will be sent home.
Spelling: Lesson 23: Review I won't be sending home a list. Older words will be reviewed and tested.	Math: Unit 6 is geometry. This week we learned all about polygons and quadrilaterals. There are a lot of vocabulary words to learn! Remember to do xtramath!!
